

Our load cell bodies are milled in the United States from certified high strength chrome/nickel alloy steel, heat treated to produce a high impact, fatigue resistant material with superb toughness. The bodies are finished with a cad/chromate plating for increased rust protection.

Our summing box is environmentally sealed and potted to prevent any corrosion due to moisture.

Precision Loads

